

Memorial.

To the Worshipful Master and brethren of Pea River Lodge, No. 271.
We, your committee, appointed to prepare a memorial on the death of Brother Louis T. Spinks, respectfully offer the following.

Whereas, death hath entered our portals and selected as its victim Brother Louis T. Spinks, whose death occurred on the 16th day of February, 1911, at his late home near Victoria, in Coffee Co. We bow in humble submission to this dispensation of God's Providence, realizing the fact, as we trace the record of our venerable brother, that he has left evidence of many shining virtues that it would be well for us to emulate.

We find that Brother Spinks was born in Morgan County, Ga., on the 19th day of January, 1845. That he came to the state of Alabama about forty years ago; that this old friend and brother married Miss Busbie McDermott on the 16th day of November, 1859, and that she yet survives him and is living at the old home.

Brother Spinks was initiated in Pea River Lodge, No. 271, on the 18th day of December, 1897; was passed to the degree of Fellowcraft on the 15th day of January, 1898, and to the sublime degree of Master Mason on the 19th day of February following.

He was an active member of Pea River Lodge, until he was called from labor here on earth to refreshments on high where the Supreme Grand Master of the universe presides.

Our brother is no more on earth. He has passed the final beacon by which all mortal men must go. He has passed over the river to rest in the ever-green shore, and, while over his last days hung the dark and lowering clouds of affliction, that was indeed sad to contemplate by his relatives and friends, but as we behold the great concourse of people and the many mourners at his funeral services, we are impressed with the belief that a great man has passed away, and we are led to exclaim:

"Beyond the sunset's radiant glow,
There is a brighter land I know,
Far from such unbalanced strife,
To all who share the ill of life,
A home and kindred we have."

Our joys and sorrows are due,
Nor ask what religious rite
Conveys his orisons to heaven,
Enough for us if we comfort impart,
Or soothe the anguish of a broken heart.
The widow's tear, the orphan's cry,
Are still our constant ready supply.
As far as power is given,
The naked clothed, the hungry fed,
These are the works of noble charity.
The bond of a Mason's pledge,
Peso to thy ashes Brother Spinks,
Good will to thy posterity.

We recommend that this obituary be recorded on the lodge records, a copy furnished the bereaved family, and a copy to the Elba Clipper for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
T. A. Kelley,
J. R. Phillips,
J. B. Revels,
Committee.

Home of Hon. C. W. Simmons Destroyed by Fire.

Last night at 12 o'clock the residence of Hon. C. W. Simmons, in Enterprise, were destroyed by fire. The family was awakened by the smoke that had filled the house when the fire had gained such headway that practically nothing was saved from the fire.

The origin of the fire is not known.

There was $1200 insurance on the house and $5000 on the furniture. The loss falls heavy on Mr. Simmons, and we certainly sympathize with him and his family in their great loss.

Mr. Simmons was in Elba at the time of the fire, having come to attend the Chancery Court today. He went home on the early train this morning.

Double-Head.

What a dear and glorious day Easter always is to us all. So many great and noble happenings most always occur on Easter. Easter and good Friday are among our sacred holidays.

The writer is greatly pleased to note that on last Friday night a number of people from Double Head had the pleasure of attending a very interesting concert given by Prof. Edna Bassett at Center Ridge church.

Prof. Henry Spivay and sister, Miss Eva Spivey, of Goshen were visitors to Double Head a few days ago. We all welcome them.

A good number of people listened to an able sermon on Easter Sunday by Rev. Will Tew at Center Ridge church.

James Swecker, 60 years old, an odd character, was killed by a Southern railway train near Greenville, Tenn. Swecker, last fall, imagined he was a candidate for congress, and traveled over the first district calling men bed at midnight, soliciting their support.

Cornelius McAuliffe, until recently managing editor of The Chicago Herald-Tribune, died at Chicago of diabetes. He had been in charge of the editorial department of the Record-Herald since the consolidation of The Times-Herald and The Record.

In an attempt to raid a wildcat distillery in White county, near Sparta, Tenn., by revenue officers, it is reported one man was killed and two others wounded, one of whom died. The dead and injured were moonshiners.

Prof. and Mrs. L. H. Hudson are attending the Teachers' Educational Association at Mobile this week. They are two of Coffee County's best teachers and we feel certain that they will return very much refreshed from hearing so many able lectures from educated men, and the boy that comes from seeing one of Alabama's largest cities. We wish them a pleasant trip.

We are sorry to say that Miss Mattie Grimes is very ill. We hope she will soon recover.

It will soon be fruit time. We will be glad when peaches and watermelons are ripe.

Calomel Gives Only Temporary Relief.

So Powerful It Shock Liver and Leaves It weaker Than Before. Dodson's Liver-Tone a Perfect Substitute.

Nearly everybody who has ever tried calomel for constipation or a sluggish liver has found that it gives only a temporary relief. For calomel is such a powerful drug that it shocks and weakens the liver and makes it less able afterward to do its duty than in the first place.

This is one of the reason why the Elba Drug store would rather sell Dodson's Liver-Tone for a pure vegetable liver tonic that will cure constipation quickly and gently without any danger of bad after-effects. We guarantee it to do this with a guarantee that is simple and fair. If you buy a bottle of Dodson's Liver-Tone for your self or your children and do not find that it is a perfect substitute, then come back to the store and get your money. If you don't get value for your money out of this tonic, it's your right to expect your money back, and we will gladly give it to you.

Governor O'Neal is busy making appointments to new offices created by the recent legislature.

Underwood is a true and able democratic leader in the congress and is worthy of promotion to a higher place in the nation's affairs.

Farm lands in Coffee are steadily advancing in price, but let good roads be built over the county and lands will more than double in value.

The reciprocity bill passed the House by an overwhelming majority, being 265 for and 80 against. Ten democrats voted against the bill. The measure will likely be passed by the senate.

Congressman Underwood stood upon the reciprocity measure notwithstanding the efforts of the steel trusts in the Birmingham district to get him to work against it.

The Elba School Board held a meeting yesterday afternoon, and elected Prof. R. J. H. Simmons as superintendent of the Elba Public School for the next year. No teachers were elected, but will be elected at a later meeting.

Last Friday night at 8 o'clock
the negro Masonic Lodge of Opp was destroyed by fire. The building was new and valued at $1,000.
There was no insurance.

Etowah County has issued $25, 000.00 county warrants for the purpose of building a new jail, and the work on the jail has been

There will be no more war for five days at least in Mexico. General Madero for the Revolutionists, and General Navarro for the Federals have signed an armistice which stops military operations for five days for the purpose of negotiating an adjustment of matters in Mexico.

Sheriff McAdory, of Jefferson County, is waging war against blind tigers and gambling houses.

It is said that the lid is being screwed on tight in Birmingham, and warrants are in the hands of the sheriff for the arrest of the occupants of the blind tiger dens and gambling houses on charges of vagrancy.

We think it would do them good to put them to work at an honorable occupation, and the court might well send them where they will be of more service to their country.

We do not appreciate the splendid advantages of Elba and Coffee county. We have the best ufacturing interests. Here is the

Many Disappointments
But No Appointments.

A new law and equity court for Covington county was created by a recent act of the legislature, and provided for the appointment by the governor of a judge and solicitor, the judge's salary being $3000.00 and the solicitor's $1800.
The act provided for the appointment within 15 days after the approval of the law, and last week large delegations went from Covington to see the governor in the interest of aspiring candidates for the offices of the new court, but Deputy Panton, rushed the negro attorneys E. T. Albritton and
A. L. Banks, for judge, and attorney L. H. Brozell and A.
Whaley for solicitor.

Under an amendment of the act, which all aspirants for the offices had overlooked, the governor's legal adviser said that the appointments could not be made within 15 months, as the act does not become effective until November, 1912. All come back disappointed but none appointed.

A Narrow Escape.

Cleveland Richburg, of Opp, narrowly escaped with his life
Saturday afternoon while engaged in a difficulty with a negro, Eli Matthews, a restaurant cook at Opp. It is said that Richburg assured the negro with a stick and shot him over the head, when the negro opened fire with a pistol and the ball struck Richburg's ear.

The affair was about to cause serious trouble between the races, and Marshal Rhodes and special attorneys E. T. Albritton and

torney L. H. Brozell and A.

The Place For Hats!

IN ELBA beyond a doubt is at this store.

This may seem a bold assertion, and it is, but it is warranted by facts that can be demonstrated to any one interested. We don't claim that our superior stock of hats is due to any particular shrewdness on our part. Our buying it was more the result of good luck than anything else. We found a wholesale dealer who was obliged to close out his stock. He had more hats than we wanted, he would not divide the stock, but he kept cutting the price until we just had to buy the whole business. The consequence is we have a world of hats on hand, and they just MUST move out.

We have hats in all styles, all shapes, all colors. Straw hats, Felt hats, wool hats cotton hats. Hats for men, women and children. Hats from loc out of sight. For men we sell a beautiful imported straw for $1.65 that you could not match anywhere for double the money. Then our 45¢ hats sell at other stores for from 75¢ to $1.25. We've sure got the hat business beat, we are selling stacks of them. You had better come and get yours to-day.

OLD ST. JO
held them from impending danger.

Another day passed and more deaths were announced. The processions to the little burying grounds beyond the cypress swamp to the rear of the city became frequent. The powers of the negro grave-diggers were taxed to the utmost to open sufficient graves for the oft recurring processions. The limited stock of coffins was exhausted. The carnival of death had opened most auspiciously. It had already eclipsed and ended all festivities. Checks were but the day before finished with youth and beauty now blanched with fear.

When uncontrollable fear seized men, ships scattered their anchors and stole away in the night. The air was stagnant and filled with pestilential vapors. Many sought safety through flight only to be stricken dead by the wayside. Soon the buried pestilence held undisputed sway throughout the city. Deaths were no longer counted. All day long was heard the rumble of the dead wagons upon the streets. Trenches took the places of graves, and rude boxes for coffins. Half crazed men would rush to the surrounding woods for safety with heads bursting with unexpressable pain and eyes forcing themselves from their sockets. Under some luffy pine they would check their mad flight, hesitate, stagger, then the black blood, the black vomit of death would come rushing through their parched lips, they would fall forward into this pool of deadened blood—and die. Great God! What a death.

City Was Doomed.

The heretofore prosperous city was doomed. The death angel had undisputed sway, and as he passed from door to door he found no blood stained little as in the days of yore. None was spared. Faculties were broken up by fight only to be soon reunited in death. How quickly love, hatred, the passion for wealth, for learning, were placed in one common receptacle. How insignificant was man. His reason, humanity, charity, all had fled. Like the dumb brute of the woods or field he died uncared for and alone. In a very brief space of time the city was depopulated never again to be the habitation of man. The few who escaped, and the pure blood African who is immune, remained for awhile to dispose of the property, often left without known beneficiaries. The famed city of St. Joseph was dead.

Two years had passed over the desolate city. Rank vegetation had taken the place of the choice shrubs and flowers of the erstwhile well kept grounds. Storms of wind and rain, joined with the heat of summer, had made sad havoc with the uncared for graves, hostleries, stores and homes. Stately herons paraded the water front, in place of the wary watchman. Ravens croaked, and shrieked above the vacant buildings. The mocking bird, the South's favored songster, alone remained to chant its melancholic requiem over the field of death.

The Storm.

Summer was passing away. Already the days were growing short, and the first cool breath of the far away north land heralded the approach of the impending struggle between the mighty wind lords of North and South. A week of calm had passed when as the sun rose, through the pine forest to the northeast there came fierce gusts of wind, increasing in strength with the growth of the day.

Nor did the wind go down with the dropping of the green sun into the darkened waters of the gulf. All through the night it roared and shrieked through the abandoned city, gaining power with each succeeding hour.

The few venturesome fishermen remaining there, who feared death, neither by pestilence or storm, anchored their boats in the ship yard cove, and watched the seething waters. For two days the northeast gale continued, steadily increasing in velocity. Then came a lull in the storm. The mountainous clouds which had been driving across the sky with terrific force seemed to stand still but only for a brief time. The wind was shifting slowly to the west. There it stopped as though preparing for a last gigantic onset upon the quivering land. Soon it began again, now with all the titanic force and fury of the tropical hurricane. It broke the cables of the few boats in the cove, tossing them ashore like cookie shells. Roofs went flying in the air and brick walls crumbled at the onslaught. Chaos reigned supreme.

Tidal Wave Finishes It.

Washington, April 28.—A joint debate, notable in the annals of the national capital, is to be held in the assembly room of the National Press Club on the evening of May 2. Senator John W. Kern of Indiana, former Speaker Cannon of Illinois, Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, spoken of as possible Ambassador to Germany, and Representative Oliver M. James of Kentucky, one of the Democratic leaders of the House are to be the participants.

President Taft has displayed the keenest interest in the meeting and Speaker Champ Clark is to be present in an advisory capacity. The debate, however, is to be non-partisan.

The question at issue is of world-wide importance. This is it:

"Resolved, That whiskers are a greater detriment to a man than a bald head."

The affirmative has been placed in the hands of Messrs. James and Longworth, who long ago lost interest in the price of a hairy cut.

The negative will be warmly upheld by Messrs. Kern and Cannon. The former wears a beard of the type of Justice Charles E. Hughes, while the latter has a Lincoln-like bairn's adornment. The debate is expected to draw an attendance from all parts of the country, as the membership of the National Press Club includes many of the prominent magazine and newspaper editors and writers of all sections.

O'Neal Generous to Those Who Stood by Him in Fight.

Birmingham Ledger.

Governor O'Neal continues to reward the faithful members of his legislature who stood by him through thick and thin in his many hard battles.

At the present rate the governor is "dishing out pie" to legislators there will be almost entirely new body of lawmakers to whom appropriate exercises were conducted by Rev. J. F. Feagin and Rev. D. P. Lee.

The exercises were appropriately interspersed by patriotic songs well rendered by Elba's splendid choir.

Hon. M. S. Carmichael delivered a most able and interesting address, mentioning some of the causes leading up to the great struggle and relating many deeds of greatness and valor on the part of the confederate soldiers, both during the war and during the period of reconstruction.

After the address of Mr. Carmichael, Hon. T. J. Carlisle, of Enterprise, made a brief, but able and interesting speech, and then invited the old soldiers present, together with others, to attend the memorial exercises to be held on Friday, the 28th, at Enterprise, stating that the change was made from Wednesday to Friday on account of the school at Enterprise.

We did not obtain the names of all of the veterans who attended the exercises, but following is a list which we have obtained:

W. H. Donaldson, Co. K, 25th Ala. Regt.; W. M. Parker, Co. K, 25th Ala. Regt.; E. D. Lee, Co. K, 33rd Ala. Regt.; N. O. Hutchinson, Co. A, 13th Ala. Regt.; T. J. Calhoun, Co. B, 37th Ala. Regt.; H. V. Atkinson, Co. B, 25th Ala. Regt.; J. R. Spruill, Co. A, 33rd Ala. Regt.; J. A. Taylor, Co. G, 5th Ala. Regt. and P. J. Ham.

Geneva Court House Case Set for June 8.

The case of B. W. Armstrong against Governor Emmet O'Neal, in which the former asks that a writ of mandamus be issued requiring Governor O'Neal to call an election in Geneva county to determine the right of Hartford to the county seat, has been set for June 8 in Circuit court.

The governor has been kind to the relatives of the legislators.

Rev. Mr. Jenkins, son of Representative Jenkins, of Bullock county, has been appointed chaplain of the state convicts in one of the most sought after places in the gift of the governor.

Senator Sprague and Senator Atkins have been appointed on the state highways commission.
